Points of Interest

Trailhead on South Shore

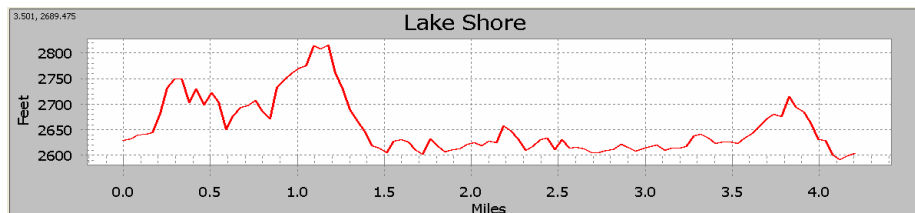

View from South End of Lake

History:

This lake is named for an early prospector, Michael R. O Sullivan who came here in the early 1800s and who located many mining claims in the area. Most of the area's claims are closer to the Pend Oreille River and hold zinc, lead, silver and gold. The Metaline Falls area is the second largest lead producing district in the United States.

Cautions:

Wear sturdy shoes. Surface water should be treated. A variety of large animals live on Hall Mt. Do not approach them.
